Welcome to IDEAL Learning Platform!

The IDEAL online platform is the centre and also the main legacy of the Ideal project. This platform is an Open Educational Resource (OER) which publish all developed Intellectual Outputs in 6 partner languages. Discover the experiences of other teachers and trainers using digital tools in their lessons and trainings.

Ideal Project

As time goes by, the Erasmus plus project IDEAL has almost come to its end. These have been two intense years, during which the consortium has worked hard to develop all the available materials and resources. Documents and learning platform are online and ready to be used:

Making a product means nearly nothing if you don't make it available for the public with the all means you may have at your disposal. That's why IDEAL envisages a national launch of the project in each country! After the initial success of the first event in United Kingdom, the official presentation of the Toolkit and Trainer Manual will also take place in Spain, Italy, Greece, the Netherlands and Romania between September and early October. If you are a teacher, trainer, education coordinator, or if you are simply interested in improving your digital approach, contact us here:

n! IDEAL PROJECT

As a product means nearly nothing if it stays hidden, it certainly gives more proof of reliability if it is tested and reviewed.

That's what the consortium has done through several steps during the project development. In the last issue of the newsletter we have talked about the piloting phase: The reactions were positive and our testers indicated that the selected tools were useful, and the testimonials from other adult educators helpful to know about the use of a particular tool. So, let's see together an example of adult educators' testimonial and how this test was highly useful to us.

The involved teachers were asked to answer some questions related to their direct experience with a certain digital tool.

For instance, the director of a company which develops web-based solutions based in UK reviewed a tool previously selected by the consortium: TeamMate 360, which is used to assess managers who manage remote teams and remote team members using a 360-degree feedback methodology.
