INCLUSION OF DIGITAL EDUCATION

in adult learning

CONTEXT

Digital technologies are quickly changing education and is bringing many opportunities for schools and training organisations, impacting what, where and how education is delivered. However, the adoption of these technologies remain slower than seen in other industries.

The project aims to help educators, teachers & trainers in (in)formal adult education understand & put digital education into practice.

Attention was given to innovation in pedagogy through supporting professional development to enhance innovative teaching practice, including ways of using & bringing digital tools into the classroom.

As a result, the project promoted digital literacy, skills and inclusion for both teachers and learners.
